Perfect fit made easy:

How to measure your wrist correctly

We're happy to adjust the bracelet for you at no extra cost before your watch is shipped, so you can enjoy wearing it right out of the box. Any links we remove will, of course, be included in the package in case you ever need them later. To make the adjustment, we just need the measurement of your wrist — and it's quick and easy to do yourself.

1. Print out the measuring tape

Please print this page at actual size (100%) to ensure accurate measurements.

In your print settings, make sure the "Fit to page" or "Scale to fit" option is turned off, so the sizing remains correct.

2. Cut out the measuring tape

Carefully cut out the measuring tape along the dashed lines, taking your time to follow the edges precisely.

When cutting the small slit, be especially cautious to keep it clean and accurate — this will help ensure the best possible measurement.

3. Measure your wrist

Wrap the measuring tape comfortably around your wrist—flat against the skin and not too loosely—then guide the free end through the slit to hold it in place for an accurate reading.

4. Determine your size

The number that appears next to the slit indicates the circumference of your wrist.

This is the measurement we need to adjust your watch bracelet to the perfect fit.

When placing your order, please add half a centimeter (0.5 cm) to your measured wrist size for the best fit.

For example: If your wrist measures 17 cm, the ideal order size would be 17.5 cm.

If your wrist size is not listed on the scale, please contact our customer service for assistance.
